Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: of arguments of record. In addition, Applicant argues in response to the outstanding rejection of claims 24-26, 34-36, 44 and 45 under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) over Amano (JP Pub. No. 2001-141686) that Amano allegedly fails to disclose a cartridge comprising a "sensor ejecting means for ejecting a biosensor from the cartridge," as recited in applicants' claim 24. Applicant argues that Amano's elements 4a-c are part of a dispensing device in Amano, not a cartridge.

The Examiner respectfully disagrees. Figure 3 of Amano shows the cartridge 3 including the sensor ejecting means in physical communication therewith (rollers 4a-c, in particular 4c). The claims do not require the sensor ejecting means be "located on the cartridge". Further, none of the figures of Amano show the elements 4a-c located on the dispensing device. However, Fig. 1 of Amano does show a sensor conveying mechanism 8 located on the dispensing device for conveying an ejected biosensor from the sensor ejecting port to a predetermined test position. Lastly, the "sensor sending out mechanisms" (previously, driving mechanism) act on the rollers 4-c included with the biosensor cartridge inside the dispensing device.
